

Association of Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages

The National Curriculum: Is there a place for ESL students?

- What do you know about the National Curriculum for Australian schools? Is your school talking about it?
- With comment due by May and implementation in 2011, it is timely to consider the implications for ESL students.
- This session, led by ESL experts and ESL school consultants, will provide a forum for discussion and comment and explore the mysteries of the National Curriculum website. Recommendations and comments from this session could inform the Australian Council of TESOL Associations' submission on the draft.
- This session will also be of particular interest for TESOL students studying or due to study Curriculum Development, as well as education students who have done or will do the TESL unit as they may end up working in ESL areas in Australian Schools.

Saturday 27 March - 10:00am – 12.30pm

Canberra Institute of Technology Reid Campus, J Block, Room J09

corner of Coranderrk Street & Constitution Avenue

(free parking on Constitution Ave opposite CIT J Block)

Free for ATESOL ACT members, $10 for non-members

Bookings essential: e-mail: jakki.cashman@cit.act.edu.au or phone Marina: 6201 2483 (message)
by COB Thursday 25 March